Everyday Mindfulness Skills Group

Where: The Snow Psychology Group, LLC
6274 Montrose Rd
Rockville, MD 20852

When: 10-week series, Wednesdays from 11am – 12 noon

Who: Adults who may be feeling overwhelmed or stressed and would like to learn skills to feel better and cope more effectively. The group will be led by Dr. Tamara Levin, an experienced licensed psychologist. Individual intake session required prior to joining the group.

Cost: $60 per weekly session. Medicare accepted. May also be reimbursed by other insurance plans through out-of-network benefits. Credit cards accepted.

What you will gain from participation:

- Learn to pay attention to what is happening in your life and take better care of yourself
- Increase feelings of resilience, balance, and wellness
- Become more fully present in the moment without worrying so much about the future or dwelling on the past
- Reduce struggling with difficult experiences by learning to be less judgmental and more accepting
- Learn skills to incorporate mindfulness practice into everyday life
- Practice new skills in group and get feedback from others
